DOUGLAS COLLEGE

GRADUATION 2023

Message from the President

Congratulations!

You completed your program and graduated from Douglas College. Your hard work, perseverance and commitment has paid off. It's time to celebrate, take pride in your accomplishments, and appreciate the support you've received along the way.

Graduation is one of my favourite times of year. Although I've participated in hundreds of convocation ceremonies, each one is truly special. The cheers and tears from the audience always reminds me of what an important milestone the day is for all of us. From faculty, friends and families, to support staff, administrators and many others, we are all so very proud of you.

These days, more than ever, I am also reminded of the vital importance post-secondary education plays in building a better society. Our vision is to graduate resilient global citizens, with the knowledge and skills needed to adapt, innovate and lead in a changing world. I hope you feel that your time at Douglas has prepared you to do just that, and to give back in whatever way you can to make the world a better place.

Looking ahead, some of you may be transitioning directly into a career. Some of you may be moving on to further studies. Just know that you will always have a home here. You are now a Douglas College alum. You are part of a very special community, and we will be watching with pride as you set out to achieve your dreams.

Enjoy this moment. You've earned it.

Dr. Kathy Denton, President
Douglas College

HONORARY FELLOW

Justin McElroy

Douglas College awards an Honorary Fellow designation to recognize outstanding achievement or distinguished service by an individual on a community, provincial, national, or international scale. This year's Honorary Fellow is Justin McElroy.

Justin is the Municipal Affairs Reporter for CBC Vancouver News, reporting on local B.C. governments from Abbotsford to Zeballos and everywhere in between. His work focuses on accountability, fact checking, data analysis, and telling local stories of smaller communities through a regional and provincial lens.

In addition to reporting from city halls, Justin is also the unofficial bracketer and ranker of the province, having led viral competitions to find the province's most iconic song and best small town, Metro Vancouver's best neighbourhoods and breweries, and the best welcome signs and municipal pins in British Columbia.

From March 2020 to September 2021, Justin analyzed data to produce daily charts about the COVID-19 pandemic in B.C. His work helped people make sense of a time that was stressful and often confusing, given how limited data led to conflicting advice.

Every April 2, World Autism Awareness Day, McElroy takes time to use his platform to reflect on his own experiences on the autism spectrum, as well as share the stories of others through social media posts, interviews and articles.

Justin's accolades include a Jack Webster Award for Excellence in Digital Journalism, and he was named one of Vancouver Magazine's 50 most influential people in the city. Beyond these acknowledgements, Justin is most grateful that he gets to share his work with British Columbians and be part of so many powerful conversations.

Prior to joining CBC, Justin worked for Global News, The Province and NBC during the 2010 Olympics. He got his start at The Ubysey, the student newspaper at the University of British Columbia, where he graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science.

Justin will receive the Honorary Fellow award during a graduation ceremony on February 21.

Graduation Distinction and Valedictorians

Graduation Distinctions are recognized with the presentation of a gold honour cord. Students awarded the graduation distinction are students who have achieved a minimum GPA of 3.67 in the qualifying courses for their credential.

Eligible students are noted with an *.

Valedictorians are high achieving students chosen by their Faculties, generally from the highest-level credential.

PLEASE NOTE

Graduation lists in this program were prepared before credentials were awarded and may not be complete; names of some graduates may be missing. Douglas College apologizes for any inadvertent omissions or errors.

Not all of the students listed have fulfilled their graduation requirements at the time of printing. In the event of a discrepancy between this program and the Douglas College graduation roster, the Douglas College graduation roster shall be taken as correct.

Credentials awarded at Douglas College

Douglas College awards credentials commensurate with requirements necessary at the time of program completion. All credentials are awarded through Enrolment Services once it is determined that candidates satisfy program requirements.

The types of credentials are typically defined by the length of study and the number of required credits in a defined program of study.

Certificate: A defined program of study involving one year or less of study.

Advanced Certificate: A defined program of study offered to students who already have at least a Certificate and who complete additional specialized courses.

Diploma: Limited-enrolment areas - In a specific field consisting of a defined program of study, requiring a minimum of 60 credits; Open-enrolment areas - In selected courses within a defined program of study, requiring a minimum of 60 credits.

Specialization: A thematic specialization for a Diploma is met by completing 18 or more credits, at least nine of which are at the 2000 level, of a thematically linked list of courses within a diploma program.

Post-Degree Diploma: One year (minimum 30 credits) of a defined program of study for students who already possess a bachelor's degree; at least 50 percent or 15 credits of coursework in the diploma is at the 3000/4000 level.

Post-Baccalaureate Diploma: Two years (minimum 60 credits) of a defined program of study for students who already possess a bachelor's degree; at least 50 percent or 30 credits of the coursework in the diploma is at the 3000/4000 level; at least 30 credits must consist of courses for which no other credential has been awarded.

Graduate Diploma: One or two years of a defined program of study following the completion of a bachelor's degree; coursework in the diploma is at the 5000 level.

Honours Credential: As determined by each program area, a defined program of enriched study, including such requirements as guided studies, supervised research and/or a major paper and including a specified minimum Grade Point Average.

Associate Degree: In Arts or Sciences, requiring a minimum of 60 credits of first- and second-year university-transfer courses; may include a thematic emphasis or discipline specialization.

Bachelor's Degree: A minimum of 120 credits in a specific program field consisting of a defined program of study, including a minimum of 45 credits taken in courses at the 3000/4000 level.

Continuing Education Certificate of Program Completion: Issued when formal recognition of successful completion of a non-credit program is required.

Training Group Certificate: Issued when a formal credential of successful completion for a Training Group non-credit program is required.

History of Academic Regalia

The origin of academic regalia can be traced back to the 12th and 13th centuries with the founding of the first universities. The attire worn by scholars and students followed that of the clergy with long gowns and hoods that covered the head. The gowns and hoods provided warmth in unheated buildings and set students apart from citizens.

In the latter part of the 14th century, some colleges in England required scholars and students to wear a long gown. Oxford and Cambridge during the time of King Henry VIII mandated an academic dress code. This tradition continued in the American colonies where a standard academic dress supported the concept of equality among students.

In 1894, it was determined that gowns would be black, with bachelors' gowns made of wool and masters' gowns of silk. Doctors' gowns would use black velvet with three bars across the sleeves.

Changes to the colours used to represent certain faculties occurred in the 19th century. The white fur trim for the BA hoods of Oxford and Cambridge was adopted to represent arts, letters and humanities. Other colours were associated with different disciplines. A sample of the colours associated with the various disciplines is listed below.

Arts - White

Business Administration - Light Grey

Nursing - Apricot

Physical Education - Palmetto

Post-Baccalaureates - Black

Social Work - Chamois

Therapeutic Recreation - Salmon

The official colour(s) of the college or university are used to line the hoods.

Caps, mortarboards and tassels are worn by graduates receiving a degree. During the commencement exercises, many institutions have followed the practice of requiring the tassel to be on the right side before degrees are conferred and moving the tassel to the left once the degree is granted.
